International Model Forest Network Principles and Attributes of Model Forests					February 2008
Partnership	Landscape	Commitment to Sustainability	Governance	Program of Activities	Knowledge-sharing, Capacity Building and Networking
Each model forest is a neutral forum that welcomes voluntary participation of representatives of stakeholder interests and values on the landscape	A large-scale biophysical area representing a broad range of forest values, including social, cultural, economic and environmental concerns	Stakeholders are committed to the conservation and sustainable management of natural resources and the forested landscape	The model forest management process is representative, participative, transparent and accountable, and promotes collaborative work among stakeholders	The activities undertaken by a model forest are reflective of the model forest's vision and stakeholder needs, values and management challenges	Model forests build stakeholder capacity to engage in the sustainable management of natural resources, and collaborate and share results and lessons learned through networking
Model forest stakeholders represent diverse values and interests from various sectors of society who work towards a common vision for the sustainable management of the area	The natural resources in the model forest are recognized by the stakeholders in social, cultural, economic and ecological terms	Sustainable management practices promote the generation and equitable distribution of economic and social benefits derived from natural resources	Stakeholders work together using consensus-based processes to attain the model forest's vision and objectives	Model forest management processes include effective planning and monitoring systems	Model forests contribute to local and national capacity building in the sustainable management of natural resources
The model forest aims at having representatives from the public, private and volunteer sectors, community organizations, academia and research institutions involved in its activities Involvement in all aspects of governance in the model forest is	The model forest has a geographically defined area encompassing diverse ecosystems, resource management administrations and tenure arrangements Forest and other natural resources provide communities with a range of	Model forests foster economic growth and diversification aimed at sustainable community development Model forests promote innovative mechanisms for pursuing the sustainable management of natural resources within a framework of	A vision for the sustainable management of the landscape and its natural resources is developed jointly by the stakeholders The model forest is a forum for exploring options to effectively address natural resource management conflicts	A strategic plan, with a program of activities reflective of stakeholder needs, values and issues, considers national forest programme objectives and other plans developed by broader jurisdictions Practical mechanisms for	Model forests undertake and promote training and mentorship activities Model forest communication and outreach activities have demonstrable influence on stakeholders and the general public voluntary and inclusive No discrimination against groups or individuals exists within the model forest partnership	goods, services and values just a The model forest is a working landscape reflective of the diverse interests and values of the stakeholders and the uses of the area's natural resources Model pre maint	just and equitable distribution of costs and benefits Model forests support actions for maintaining ecological integrity on a landscape Model forests explore and promote practices that contribute to maintaining and/or restoring the	The actions of the model forest are governed by principles of trust, transparency and collaborative decision-making, while respecting	implementing and monitoring the strategic plan are in place Model forests facilitate innovation	Model forests exchange experiences and lessons learned with other model forests and organizations various interests and values Clear policies, procedures and practices are in place for stakeholders to express their views and influence decision-making	in the sustainable management of natural resources Model forests facilitate and promote research and the implementation	Model forests share their achievements and lessons learned nationally, regionally and internationally using various activities and approaches ecological integrity of the landscape	The model forest has a structure that is transparent and accountable, sets priorities and manages activities effectively	of new and innovative ideas, processes, approaches and techniques in the sustainable management of natural resources Model forest planning processes	Model forests develop and participate in networking activities
International Model Forest Network			Committees, staffing or other executive mechanisms for developing and implementing activities are in place	make use of the best available traditional and scientific knowledge The model forest process generates information and synthesizes knowledge that informs local and national policy-making and global sustainability initiatives	Model forests engage in collaborative activities with other model forests Model forests participate in activities and governance structures aimed at strengthening national, regional and international model forest networks